

gained by bearing his cross while on earth, they were things his natural disposition would have desired if he had given away to it, but he felt that he as it were the whole Church of Christ to bear for, and for that reason would not many things he might have had.

Father said when he entered eternity he found they were all laid up for him and a great many more precious treasures, this Father said this little trunk was filled with these, in one corner was some very nice silk handkerchiefs of a Dove color with beautiful borders, there were many precious Diamonds Pearls and Rings. These I was to give to the brethren & sisters with his kind love and blessing.
