

#14,589
(9786)
6

One Saturday afternoon as I was looking towards the south house I saw a man of singular appearance he walked up to the dining room window and looked in he soon went into the south entry where he stayed some time, I was informed that it was Felix the Roman governor spoken of in the new testament a minister of heresy. Sabbath afternoon I saw Felix in the chamber hall, I was told that he ^{had come from} ~~was going to the~~ Ohio and that there would be a falling away ^(a) which took place soon after. I one evening I saw Felix come into the room where I live and a man of a dark complexion, two females one was the wife of Felix, two young women who were there have gone to the world. I was told that Felix went to Lebanon and a number went to the world he went to the church at Waterbury and many went to the world soon after. Felix went to the south house a number departed from the faith soon after (a which was supposed to have respect to these parts).