

Words of Sister Demantha to Amy

Now Amy, says your true friend Demanth, I just want to tell you that I have long had this comforting notice and present in safe keeping for you. Be assured, Dear Sister, that your loving Parents, Elders and Friends in the spirit world, know and realize, and do sympathize with all their dear children and companions on earth, in their various scenes of sorrow, grief and affliction. Surely we do; and we would thankfully bear the whole, were it so to be; but many of the afflictions of time and sense are unavoidable to souls in mortality. So be patient and humble in all that may be your portion to meet, and I will ever be your true Witness and friend in need
----- and trouble -----

So here in my hand I hold, A pledge of purest gold;
Tis ever new, tis never old, Tis from thy Loving Mother.
Yea Mother Lucy sent by me, This token of her love to thee;
Of this she'd found you worthy, This you may keep forever.

By all this dear Sister I think you must know & truly realize that you are not forsaken nor forgotten by your blessed Parents & the good spirits. So be comforted, press on cheerfully & patiently thro' tribulation, trials & crosses, and in my love & blessing & most fervent prayers to God for your prosperity in the gospel farewell.

From Demantha.
