Faith and Hope

Our journey thro time may seem lengthened by the harrowing burdens of strife and our pilgrim staff may be broken while climbing the high way of life

But the hope of those beautiful lands out stretched on the

We will brave the rough storm

We may feel that our burdens depress us That the cross is too heavy to bear

Do we think that a bright crown awaits us The need for true labor and prayer O the faith of the martyr we need lest we walk the dark valley unshod and fail of the hope that will lead thro' joy and sorrow to God

Heavenly guide thro' the pilgrimage here

$\frac{6}{8}$ Key G

So long is the journey and dreary

I cannot walk thro' the valley alone

O give me thy staff lest I weary

And when the shadows of life close around and coldly the night winds are blowing

If I can see the bright hope star above all cheerfully I will be going Heavenly pilot - far out on the sea

The billows are surging forever

Launch my frail bark on the waters for me

And give me the oar of endeavor

Struggling alone mid the darkness & gloom

All vainly I am seemingly driven

But I will look to the light house beyond

That shines from the harbor of heaven

Heavenly captain the contest of life

Is raging in terror around me

Give me thy faith lest I fail in the strife

And strength lest the tumult confound me

I would not fail in the battle today

Nor suffer my foes to defeat me

But in thy strength I will struggle & pray

That mine may be triumph & victory
